

What would the thinking that you're after look like, sound like and feel like in your classroom or school? Write down some specific examples.

looks like...

sounds like...

feels like...

